

Digital Dealer Program

The screenshot shows a digital dealer program interface. At the top, there are navigation icons for Home, Email, Chat, and Opportunities, with 'Opportunities' highlighted. Below this is a purple header bar with the text 'Customers with bad credit' and a close button 'X'. The main area is a conversation between a customer named Kevin Baker and a Superhuman AI agent. Kevin's messages are in blue, and the AI's messages are in purple. The AI is represented by a small purple bull icon. The conversation goes as follows:

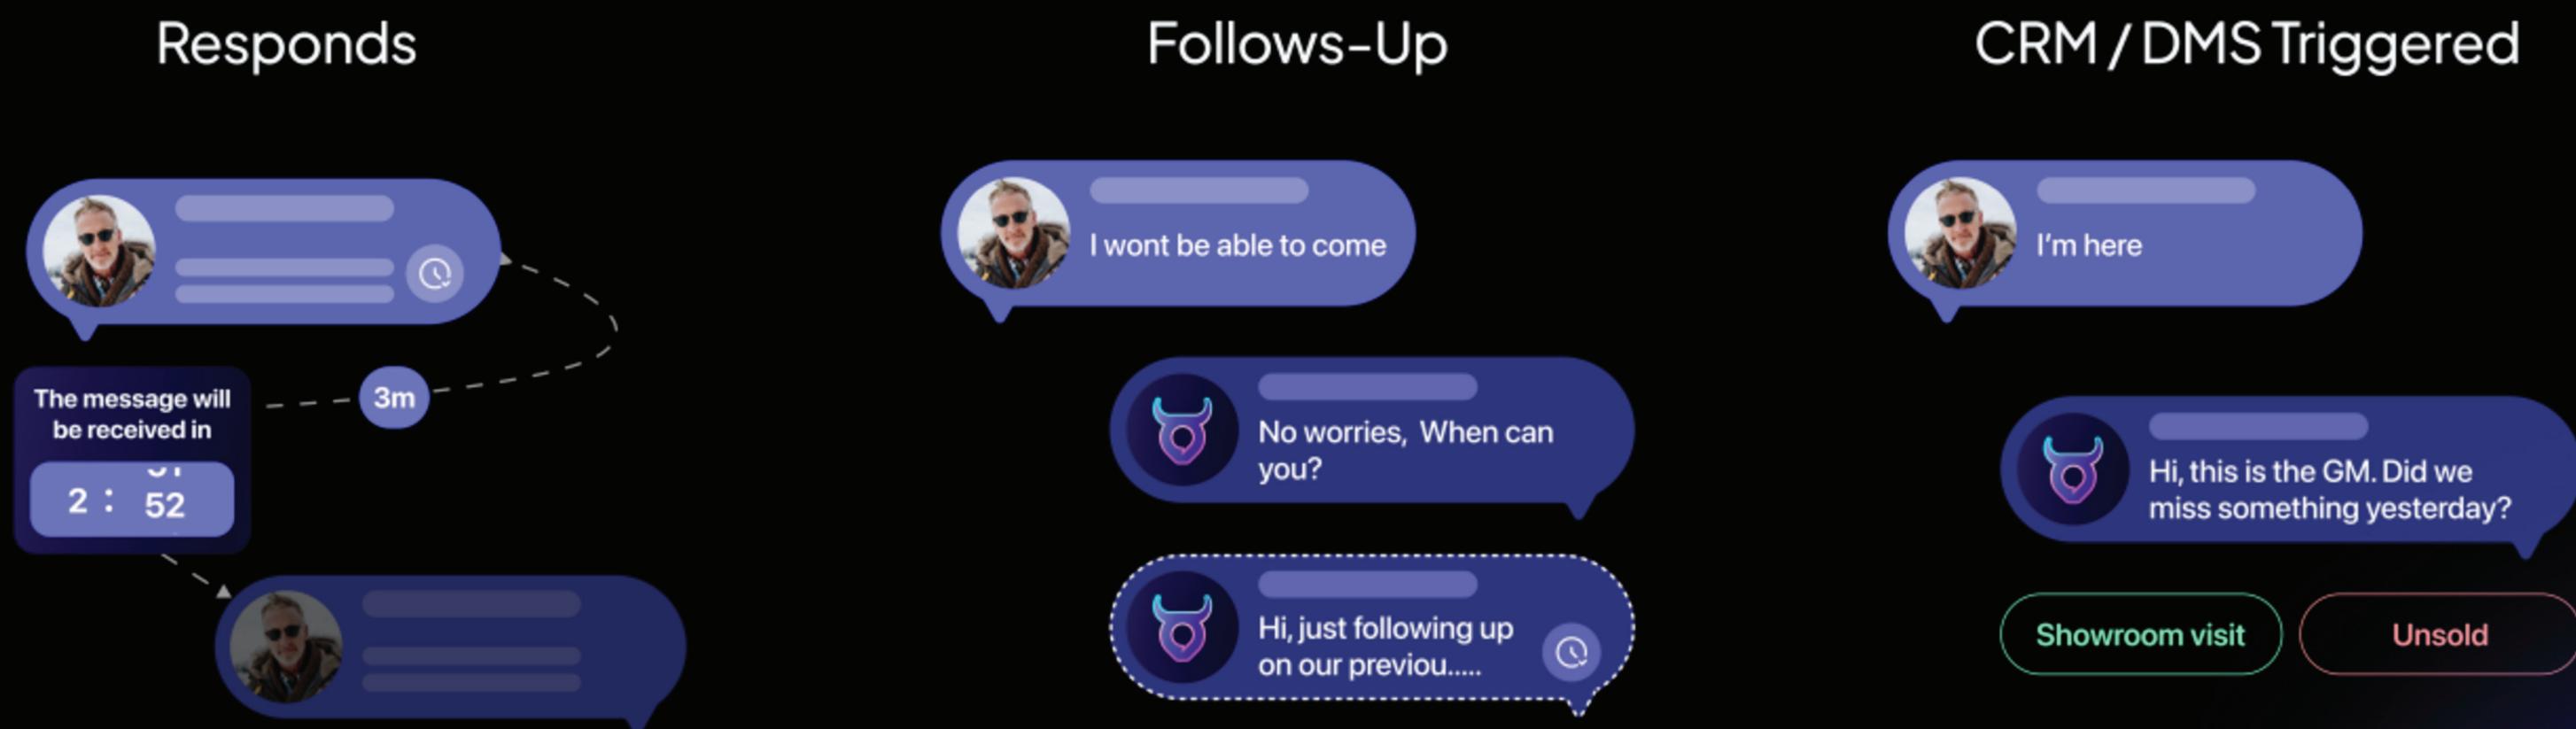

- Kevin Baker: Hi Kevin, are you still interested in the 2024 Dodge Challenger?
- Superhuman AI: Yea, but I have bad credit and I want my monthly payment to be as low as possible.
- Superhuman AI: No worries Kevin, we work with all kinds of credit. Have time today to stop by and run some numbers?
- Kevin Baker: I can pass by this week

At the bottom of the interface, there are tabs for Interests, Finance, Bad Credit, Used Cars, and 2024 Dodge Challenger. There are also buttons for 'Used Dodge Sequ...' and 'Sequence'.

About Matador

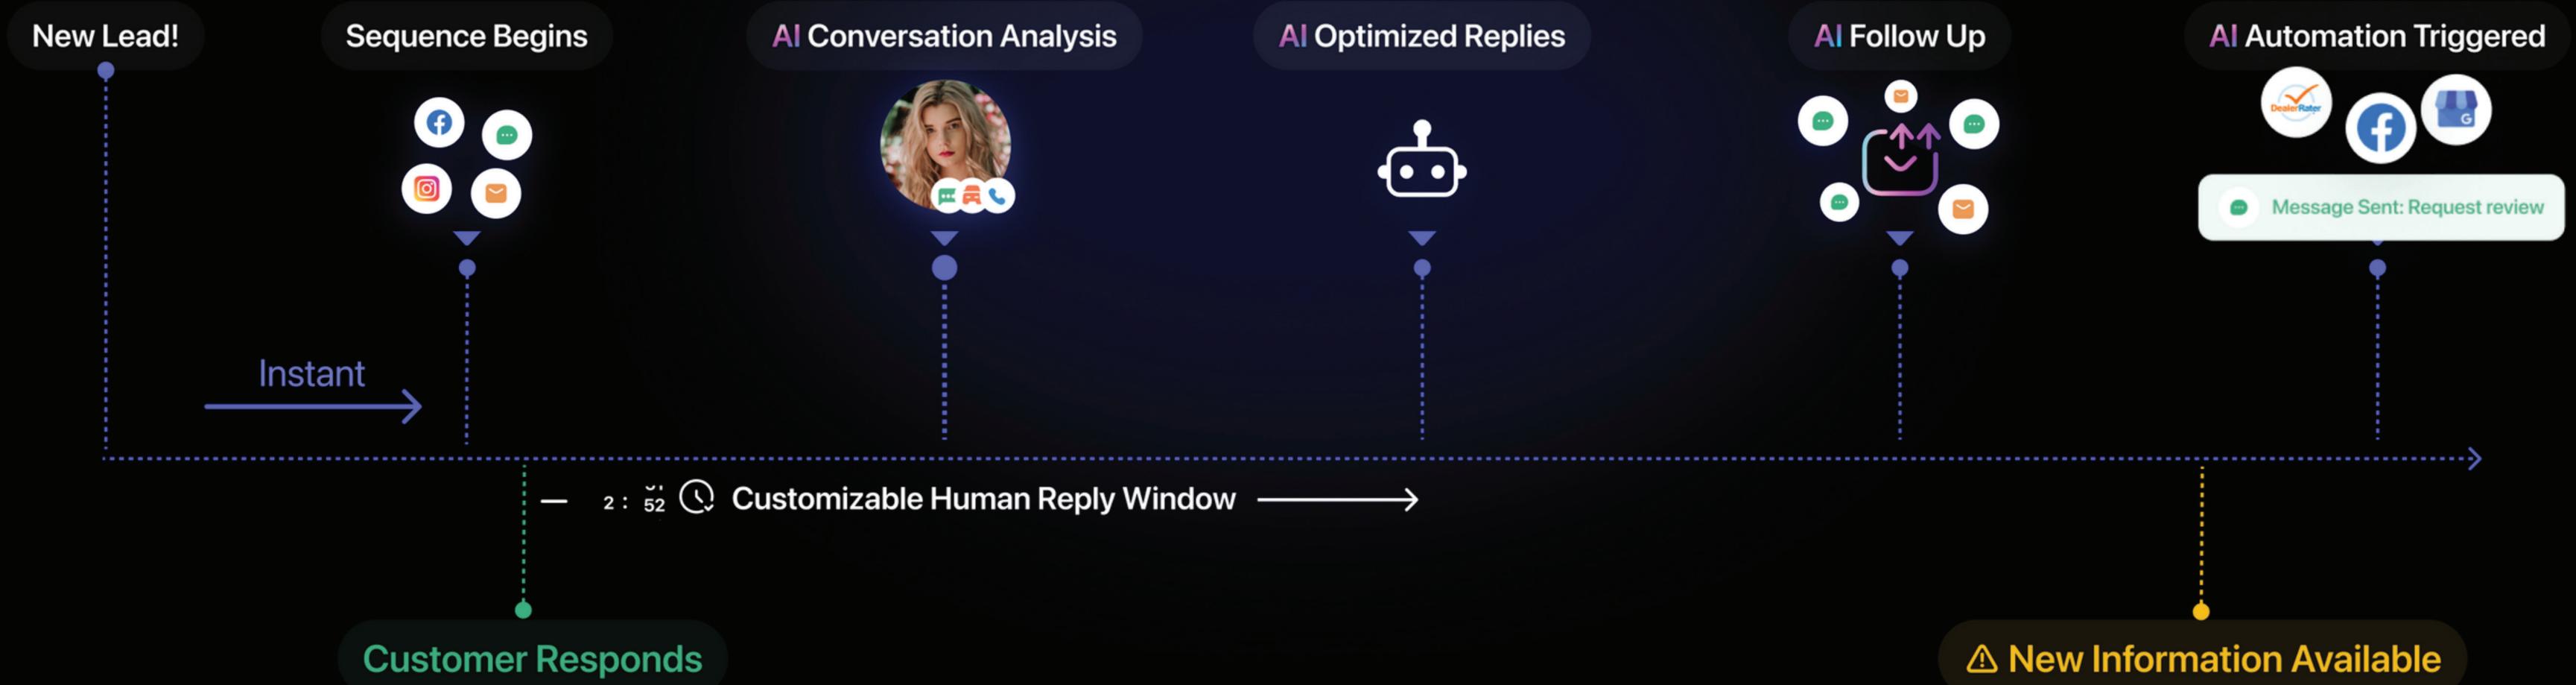

Matador AI was founded by automotive professionals who spent their careers inside dealerships and dealer groups. From firsthand experience, our founders recognized a consistent challenge: the traditional approach to following up with leads, managing customer lifecycles, and maintaining relationships was slow, manual, and inefficient. We set out to change that. By combining deep automotive expertise with advanced AI technology, Matador AI streamlines how dealerships engage customers throughout the entire journey.

Superhuman AI

Superhuman AI combines the power of automation with a human-hybrid approach to deliver instant, intelligent conversations across sales and service. Powered by automotive-trained language models and real dealership data, it engages every lead within seconds, qualifies intent, books appointments, and hands off seamlessly to staff when needed. The result — faster response times, higher conversions, and consistent follow-up that helps dealers capture every opportunity without losing the human touch.

AI Trained on Your Team, Brand, and Inventory

Superhuman AI minimizes handoffs by understanding context at a deeper level. Trained on each dealership's data, brand voice, and OEM-specific processes, it recognizes intent, tone, and next steps—whether it's setting a sales appointment or following up after a visit. That means fewer interruptions, smoother conversations, and more customers handled end-to-end—without waiting on human intervention.
